

Use of "external interference" in articles about China for media in India

